Mobile telephony operators French team-up with Atos Origin on mobile payment service Buyster

Atos Origin electronic payments solutions provider is team step - up with three major mobile operators in France, Bouygues Telecom, Orange and SFR - to start an "innovative payment solution" called Buyster. The new joint venture is backed by major retailers online of the country, including watercolor, Brandalley, Darty and Commerce Street.

Buyster helps mobile operators complement their existing remote payment services by addressing the market for payments in line-macro, completing offers "booth" existing enabling goods and digital services to be paid by the addition of small amounts directly on telecom Bill.

Once launched in mid-2011, Buyster will provide easy, secure payments for purchases on the Internet fixed and mobile. The objective of company, whose payment institution license is always asked the France Bank, is to develop, operate and ease of payment Buyster in France of the market.

Carrier's three partners together account for more than 50 million consumers, therefore, it is expected that the new payment service quickly reached the tipping point.
